

Jordan L. Flodell

President & Chief Executive Officer

Caliber Control Systems Ltd.

Mr. Flodell has numerous years of experience and knowledge in Electrical, Instrumentation, & Automation construction and maintenance work in the oil and gas industry. Holding a Journeyman's ticket in Instrumentation and many years of hands on field work, Jordan's wide array of knowledge, drive, and backbone gave him the vision and tools necessary to start an Alberta based company, Caliber Control Systems Ltd. Since its conception in 2008, the company has grown from one truck to an entire, fully equipped fleet. What began with one location, has grown to various locations with the capabilities of serving clients across Western Canada.

As active owner and President of Caliber, Jordan is responsible for the company's strategic planning and growth direction. Other responsibilities include managing corporate and departmental resources, starting and implementing Caliber's values, HSE culture and QAQC program. He is an advocate of an integrated team approach yet serves as a strong team leader in diverse undertakings. Jordan is the primary contact and liaison for the clients Caliber serves, focusing on cost and operational excellence while remaining involved in all critical decisions. He holds himself accountable for the success of each job, great or small, placing strong emphasis on long-term customer relationships, and world class service.

Mr. Flodell also started and is part owner of Site Resources Inc., which offers a rental fleet of self-contained air compressors used to run multi-well pads in remote locations. When a client faces challenges of lost-production, downtime, and extremely high operational costs, the team Jordan oversees at Site Resources has the solutions. Along with the expertise to resolve and or minimize these problems with the availability of their custom designed client packages.
